

Acceptable Use of Services and Prohibited Activities.

You may use Services for lawful purposes only. You are prohibited from using the Services while providing deceptive or false information about the identity of the caller or the origin of a message or phone call. You are prohibited from using the Services to violate any applicable local, state, or federal law, or to violate applicable industry accepted guidelines. You are prohibited from using the Services to engage in, or in connection with, any fraudulent activities. Any use or suspected use of the Services for prohibited activities as described herein will result in suspension or termination of Services with or without notice by us. Any use or suspected use of Services for prohibited activities will be reported by us to the FCC and/or to applicable law enforcement authorities.